THE SECRET CANVASS -Ever since the dominant party in our municipal councils one for burglary, the other for stabbing a elected men of their own political stamp only, colored woman, inflicting a severe wound as judges of the approaching election for four upon her. Officer Norwood has the knife in of the seven wards of Washington, an impres- his po: session. sion has been very general among their anti-Know Nothing fellow citisens, that it is proposed to carry the election by gross fraud. the board of commissioners at each precinct was, until this occasion, a thing unknown to the history of our municipal affairs. It being known that these commissioners belong to a secret pelitical society whose obligations re | tion of the infinite." quired one of its members who was a witness in a jury trial at Lowell, Massachusetts, to deny on oath, for three hours, his connection with it, which he admitted ere he was permitted to leave the witness stand, and the fact be, most of these commissioners are comparatively unknown to those among us who differ from them in politics, are together sufficient to account for the excitement at this moment existing in Washington against the presumption that they design canvassing the ballots in se cret, with the eye of no political opponent upon them If the obligations of the fraternity of which they are oath bound members, extend half as far as their opponents believe through the revelations made in the Lowell trial, and by Mr. Rains in his recent discussion with Judge Caskie, the plan of permitting its members to count the ballots in secret, is simply a plan by which the people of this city may be defrauded of their rights with perfect impunity, if the commissioners choose to do so. As for the oath which the commissioners take, if they regard their oaths taken in their lodges as su witness in the Lowell tria did, there is no other safety that at present occurs to us for the denied the privilege of a representative in the four wards, but by keeping a record of the votes of the anti Know Nothings by trusty talismen outside of the poll windows, the statement of each such voter to be verified by the exhibition of his open ballot.

The following preamble and resolutions were passed unanimously last right at the largest anti-Know Nothing meeting ever held

Whereas, the Know Nothing Councils of this city having elected for some of the Wards, boards of election commissioners, all of whom are members of an oath bound secret political association, refusing to those opposed to them the right and courtesy of a representation in those boards, which was never before done in this community: And whereas, the Know Nothing lower council aforesaid have refused to pass a resolution requesting the said election boards to permit one or two unofficial persons of both parties to remain in the room while they may be canvassing the ballots, which privilege has always heretofore been conceded in every Ward of Washington: Be it there-

Resolved, by this meeting of the Anti-Know Nothing party of this city, That all who vote for the anti Know Nothing candidates in the municipal election on Monday next be requested to show the tickets they vote, and give their names to be recorded by the anti Know Nothing talesman, to be stationed at each poll in this city; this course being deemed necessary by this meeting to guard the rights of the anti-Know Nothing voters of Washington against the possible perpetration

The propriety of this step will be obvious to all sincerely anxious for the preservation of the rights of the citizen, and that this elec tion may pass off without giving rise to the belief among a large portion of the Washington public, that it has been unfairly con-

We may add that the adoption of the preby the receipt of information, that a majority packed wards had peremptorily refused to permit any one but themselves to remain in the room, as heretofo:e, whiist the ballots were being counted against Know Nothingism may fairly be set down as for it, and will be so regarded by their Anti-Know Nothing fellow citizens, who have been deliberately deprived by the majority of the present councils of any other safeguard for their rights, than the plan agreed on by the meeting last night.

BELLICOSE -In an article, yesterday afternoon, we alluded, briefly, to several recent fights, and attributed the mo.ing cause to "whiskey and politics." We did not mean to say, as the strict grammarian would interpret the paragraph, that some of them [the whiskey and the politics] were required to "give security to keep the peace." Allu ion was, of course, made to the combatants.

the p litical excitement, the parties would, probably, have remained at peace-their temple of Janus closed-none bearing marks of physical violence on their persons. This subject calls to remembrance an incident which occurred in Philadelphia, some years ago. We were a spectator at the Mayor's Court, when a poor hatless and jacketless son of Erin was arraigned for a petty offence against the Corporation statutes, waich are the weak and friendless are the transgressors. (Respectability is oftentimes a shield, which the watchman's espantoon cannot dent nor splinter; and this we say by way of parenthesis, and of general application ) The Philadelphia Mayor, John Swift, addressing the human subject before him, remarked, "I'm sorry to see you here, sir." "An' faith, it's sorry I am, yer honor." "You have been behaving builty, disorderly, making a noise." "I assure yer honor yer wrong." "Why, here is the officer who arrested you, and brought you here." "That's true, but I misbehave, who did?" "Sure, the whiskey widin me, for I'm pacsable when I'm sober. This answer convulsed the assemblage with laughter, in which the Mayor joined heartily; and he dismissed the prisoner with a friendly became as submissive as a child. warning to avoid the enemy which had caused COMMUNICATED. EVERY RIGHT MINDED citizen is disgusted by controlling, if necessary, the ballot box. They have violated the commonest rule of of fairness to the friends of the Union ticket stances. by inviting two respectable citizens to be present at the balloting, and at the counting after the close of the polls, the unparalled manifested in their refusal to request it offi-

PRIVATE THEATRICALS.-Yesterday afternoon a large company of ladies and gentlemen, by invitation, attended at the Georgetown College, to witness a theatrical performance. The plays were "William Tell" and the 'Nervous Man." A friend who was pressent informs us that the students who personated the respective characters acquitted themselves admirably, thus affording a pleasant entertainment to their friends.

BUILDING OPERATIONS .- An employing me chanic informs us, that not more than onefourth as many houses are in the course of erection now, as there were five years ago, in things are, the scarcity of money, the high prices of building materials, and the decreased demand for tenements. Many elegant and spacious houses, however, have been built during the present year, and others are in process of construction.

REAL ESTATE -So far as our inquiries extend, the price of real estate now is about the Druggists everywhere. same as it was at this season last year. There are but comparatively few sales, and, in these cases, more cash in hand is required than heretofore.

GEORGE EVANS -This colored individual, who was sent to jail yesterday on a charge of house-breaking, was brought out this morning for a further hearing. The trial was had before Justice Stevens at the guard house, and the evidence was sufficient to cause the commitment of the prisoner to jail in two cases;

Music. - This is the afternoon for the con-The idea of preventing any considerable party Grounds. According to a distinguished write this city from having a representative in ter, "Music says everything which the soul cert, by the Marine Band, at the Capitol feels and foretells, if most mysterious and most elevated. It is the manifestation of an order of ideas and sentiments superior to what ht man speech can express. It is the revela-

EVENING RECREATION -We learn that it is the intention of Mesers. M. W Galt & Brc., H. Semken, Robert Keyworth, and Samuel Lewis, all jewellers, of this city, with a view that however worthy and respectable they may of giving their employees or clerks an opportunity of enjoying the summer evenings, to close their respective stores, from the first of June, at 7 o'clock p. m.

> OFF TO THE SPRINGS .- We learn that a number of sporting gentlemen, who recently transferred their surplus funds to victors in the late Virginia election, have started for the springs, either to recruit their health. after the shattering of their nerves by the result of the contest, or to replenish their purses. If the latter be their intention, it is net to be presumed that they will at once give themselves up to luxurious habits, but post wisely.

THERE IS A harmless little busy-body in the Common Council of Washington, whose futile efforts to bring himself into favorable public notice, we really pity. As the spokesman perior in its obligations, as the Know Nothing and chief workman of the dark lantern party, he proposed that the votes of the citizens at the election to be held next Monday, shall not rights of the opposite party, who have been be counted unless the ballots were prepared on paper of a certain color! What is Know Nothingism coming to?

> HANDSOME APPARATUS .- At the recent trial of the splendid suction built by Ives for the Franklin Fire Company of this city, we are informed that the distance thrown was one hundred and seventy feet, which quite satisfied the members of that efficient company. We regret that for want of room we cannot describe the splendi. workmanship of the apparatus, but will say that it is very creditable o the builder.

A Sarious Accident -- One of the men em ployed in the blacksmith shop of the work on the extension of the Capitol was struck, this morning, on the temple by the lever of the steam hammer, which got out of gear by the falling or flying out of a key. We did not learn the sufferer's name. His life is in immi-

Union Meeting .- A meeting of the Union men of the Sixth Ward will be held at the Anacosta engine house, to morrow evening, at st seven o clock, when several interest. ing addresses may be expected All persons friendly to the cause are invited to be present.

OFFENSIVE GUTTERS .- The gutters of the Second Ward and many others are in a very sad state, being offensive to the olfactories of all and shocking to look at. The "oldest inhabitant" insists that never before were gutters in Washington in any such disreputable

SEVENTH WARD MEETING TO-NIGHT .- The anti-Know Nothing voters of the Seventh Ward and their friends of other wards, will meet to-night, at Potomac Hall, on the corner of Maryland avenue and Eleventh street, Island. W. D. Wallach will address them by invitation of the committee.

THE MINNESOTA .- We learn that this vessel at our navy yard is now what is technically amble and resolution above printed, was caused | called " planked up," and that preparations are being made for caulking her. Workmen, of the election commissioners of one of the too, are laying down the keels for a number of small boats for the use of the Minnesota.

THE WAR.

The seige of Sebastopol has undergone no change. On the 12th of May, an expedition of 15,000 allied troops put to sex in the direction of the Asof, but returned without landing. No de ails of the expedition are known. Omer Pacha's force has returned to Eupateria. Large reinforcements for the allies are expected within ten days. NEGOTIATIONS.

Negotiations between Austria and the Western Powers remain in statu quo. Between Russia and Austria relations appear more intimate. Russia has notified the German State governments that the Czar will only hold to the first two guarantees on the condition of a perfect neutrality of Germany.

France and England have presented their altimatum to Sweden, which Sweden seems inclined to reject.

FRANCE.

The French exhibition at Paris had opened The ceremony was father dull. Pianori has been executed. Gen. Canrobart has resigned, nominally from ill health, and has been succeeded by General Pellissier.

[SECOND DISPATCE ] The Pacific brings one handred and thirtyfive passengers, among whom is R. M. Mc Lane, United States Commissioner to China. The Pacific arrived at Cowes on the 8th.

LATEST FROM THE CRIMEA. The latest news from Sebastopel by mail ar) of the 30th April, and by telegraph of the 12th of May. Gen. Canrobert had reviewed the entire French army, and assured them that they would soon enter Sebastopol either by door or window Fifteen thousand Turks, French and English troops hastily embarked on board all the available ships near Sebastopol, and stood out in the direction of the sea of Azof; but they returned in a day or two, and hestily dis-sm-

A combat occurred on the night of the 24th. between the Russians and French, which proved to be a desperate affair. The Russians attempted to dig new rifle pits, but the French partially prevented them, and 200 French seldiers were placed hors du combat.

A dispatch of May 1st says, that the advances were approaching surely, though slowly. Lord Raglan's dispatch of the same day says, that the Russians had constructed a new battery to the lert of the Mamelou. There was every appearance of the establishment of a very large camp on the plateau above Belbec, on the north side.

The Russians made a sortie on the night of the 11th, but the advanced works of the left attacked immediately repulsed them with considerable loss.

A short truce was granted on the evening of the 10th to allow the Russians to bury their dead, in front of the allies advances.

Gortschakoff telegraphs that on the 5th and

6th the allies were occupied in augmenting their batteries and reinforcing their approaches against the central bastion. The French Government is understood to have received dispatches concerning heavy rains; reporting that the trenches were full Principalities. A new manifesto of the Czar orders another levy of twelve men in every thousand, in the seventeen western provinces, to be completed by the end of July. Indications are increasing of a more intimate relationship between Austria and Rus sia, and it is apparent that an armed neutral ity is becoming more and more probable. At important conference between the representatives of these powers has been held.

Sweden is said to have ordered an immediate enrolment of militia. The French Baltic squadron had arrived out, and the allied fleet were pushing forward for the upper Baltic.

THE LATEST. The Paris Moniteur publishes the following resignation of Gen. Canrobert : "My shattered health no longer allowing me to continue in chief command, my duty towards my sovereign and country compels me to ask you to transfer the command to Gen. Pelissier, a skillful and experienced leader. The army which I leave him is intact, enured. and full of arder and confidence. I beseech the Emperor to have a soldier's place as general of division." The Minister of War replies, that the terms of acceptance give Gen. Canrobert the command of the division of Gen. Pelissier.
